

All Things Brielle is the all-encompassing brand for Brielle, a singer-songwriter who strives to bring joy and thought through her music and lyrics.

“EACH TIME I SEE HER PERFORM I WALK AWAY IN AWE.”

Brielle has been performing on stages all around the PA, NJ, and NY area since she was 4 years old. Currently studying music business through Berklee College of Music, Brielle actively engages in learning and developing as both an artist and advocate for artists in a constantly-evolving music industry.

When Brielle was 11 years old, she was influenced by her singer/songwriter father and began writing her own original music, while learning to play the guitar. Brielle has now written over 50 songs and is feeling blessed to be able to say she is laying down the tracks for the release of many of these long awaited tunes! She and her brother, Chris, have collaborated on many of the songs, making this an extra special time to be creating music.
